HOW TO GET TO ST BARTS

Guests traveling to St Barts can reach the island either by plane or by ferry. For guests traveling by air, direct flights into St Barths Gustav airport (SBH) originate in St Maarten, San Juan and Antigua (seasonal service) due to limitations of the airport. The majority of visitors fly into St Maarten (code: SXM) that has direct international flights from the US, Canada and Europe. Guests then take a short 12 minute commuter flight to SBH either by Winair or St Barths Commuter. Tradewind Aviation offers seasonal charter flights from San Juan during the high season. St Barts Blue can assist with private charters from San Juan and Antigua. St Barts Blue can arrange transfers from St Maarten to St Barths by private boat charters.

For guests arriving by ferry, St Barts Blue can assist with ferry ticketing and ground transfers from St Maarten's airport to the port of Gustavia on St Barts. The travel time for ferry ranges from 45 minutes to 1.5 hours depending on ferry plus ground travel.
